He might be 44 years old but our male athlete of the year Murray Goodwin is still averaging 274.5 with the bat this season.

Dena English is our female athlete of the year, scoring 284 points in 22 games for the Slammers and playing for the SBL All-Stars.

Our coach of the year, Shane Jerret-Brown, got the Bunbury Bulls under 17 academy side to the Perth Swan League grand final.

OUR BEST SPORT STARS

2016 has been a big year for sport in Bunbury with many athletes shining locally, nationally and on the world stage. Here are some of the best performers in our eyes with more awards in our gallery at bunburymail.com.au.

After 30 years of training, Taekwondo master Justin Warren earned his sixth dan black belt. For this he also earns our lifetime achievement award.

Harvey-Brunswick-Leschenault are our team of the year with their colts and reserves sides both winning undefeated premierships in 2016.

Our junior team of the year, the Australind Junior Soccer Club under 13s, won their Perth league without losing a single game in 2016.

Bunbury rower Alex Hagan's last minute call up for Rio as part of the Australian Women's 8 rowing crew is our comeback of the year.
